

Major Donor Manager

Recruitment information

Join us on our journey to making safe, healthy, happy relationships a reality for people across the country.

We are seeking an experienced and ambitious Major Donor Manager to join our team. You will hold responsibility for creating a major donor portfolio for TLC, securing support from High Net Worth Individuals (HNWIs) and Philanthropists.

This is TLC's first Major Donor role. Over the past few years our organisation's size and reach has grown considerably. We have experienced much success in winning new contracts and generating income from grants and Trusts – however, large and unrestricted donations remain an untapped potential resource for TLC.

As the need for our services grows, so does the need for funding.

We're looking for someone who is ambitious and not afraid of a challenge – we know our expectations are high and it's an increasingly competitive landscape. However we're fully committed to making this work and the successful candidate will have the support and backing of our incredibly talented team.

We're particularly looking to diversify our leadership and management teams across TLC with people from global majority ethnicities, as we know we are under-represented in this area.

How to apply

Please provide us with your CV and a response to the following question – maximum 500 words.

- Which of our three values: safe, authentic and person centred - resonates with you most and why?

The process

We're assessing applications on a rolling basis until we find the right person, so if you are interested please don't delay in applying.

If your application sounds like we could be a match, we'll contact you to arrange an interview (either in-person or virtual depending on what works best for us both). We will share interview questions in advance to make sure the process is as comfortable as it can be!

If this goes well we'll invite you to meet the wider Development team for an informal chat so we can all explore if TLC would be the kind of place you'd like to work.

We look forward to hearing from you.
